

Wesleyan Methodist Chapel 1845-1914

A "commodious and pretty Chapel" built in 1846

Help from Friends

We have so often been grieved at witnessing the exhibition of acrimonious party spirit between persons of different religious denominations, that we feel great pleasure in recording the following instance of Christian benevolence and liberality.

The churchwardens and some other influential churchmen of Tisbury have very kindly assisted the Wesleyan Methodists in the erection of a chapel in the centre of that populous parish. The chapel is now nearly completed and will soon be opened for public worship.

Chapel Open

The Wesleyan Methodists at Tisbury opened their commodious and pretty chapel for Divine worship on Friday, the 10th inst., when the Rev Dr Beaumont of London preached to delighted and overflowing audiences.

The services were continued on the following Sabbath, when the Rev Levi Waterhouse, of Frome, officiated. This neat edifice was crowded on the Sabbath also. The inhabitants of Tisbury are highly gratified and the collections amounted to the handsome sum of £79.

The Wesleyan Building Fund

On Tuesday evening a concert and entertainment was held in the Oddfellows' Hall for the purpose of aiding the new Wesleyan Chapel building fund. The room was comfortably full and each of the items was very creditably rendered, and much enjoyed by those present. The programme consisted of two parts, refreshments being handed round during the interval. The whole of the proceeds will be spent in purchasing material for work in the Wesleyan Sewing Club which is preparing for the bazaar in aid of the building fund. The following gave their services at the concert: The Wesleyan Band, Mrs Randall, the Misses N and P Dewey, and Messrs S Howell and Perry (quartets), Mrs Randall (songs), Mr Jay (recitations), Mr Perry (songs), Mrs Didham (recitations), Miss N Dewey and Mr F Ford (violin solos), Miss Pattie Dewey played the accompaniments.
